Life Assessment of Hot Section Gas Turbine Components: Proceedings of a Conference Held at Heriot Watt University, Edinburgh, UK, 5

Device physics and instrumentations of PECCS are well addressed respectively, in the first and second chapters, for the next chapters addressing real applications to organic, oxide, and nanostructured FETs.

Life Assessment of Hot Section Gas Turbine Components

They cover adsorption isotherms and energetics of adsorption both for homogeneous and heterogeneous surfaces. Coverage includes tooling, pattern technology, investment materials and ceramic shell manufacture, melting and casting, gating and feeding investment castings, finishing investment castings, health, safety and environmental legislation, defects and non-destructive testing, metallurgical aspects: structure control, design for investment casting and a review of applications.
