carbamazepine (Tegretol)

To study enzymes as well as to use them in many applications, it is necessary to remove them from their natural environment and isolate them for use or storage. The method should be carefully examined for its ability to distinguish Carbamazepine from the impurities.

Spectrophotometric determination of polyvinyl alcohol in paper coatings

Partially hydrolysed Mowiol grades are preferred both to improve adhesion and as a protective colloid additive; they are used in quantities of 1 - 2 % relative to the mixture. For example MnO is commonly used as a component of fertilizers and food additives.
