She also concurrently serves as the omniscient narrator of Vision's ongoing solo title, having induced precognitive visions through arcane ritual involving the murder of Ebony at some undetermined point before her death. During my work in Africa, I have experienced how extracts from this book and other Bebey lyrics including some of his characteristic witty, philosophical, story-telling songs instantly built bridges of communication across very diverse sets of people. The Grand Prix de la Mémoire is an award dedicated to major writers of contemporary Cameroonian literature who have died.
