Unless, or until, we can empirically determine the limits of both telepathic and PK influence, how can we possibly eliminate hypothesis 3? In order to work effectively with the question of his needs, we should have to know, so to speak, what the paranormal means to him; what he sees in the process, how he feels towards it, as it relates to the possibility of making contact with the world outside his immediate orbit of experience. In the afternoon being tired by a morning walk, while sitting in an easy-chair near the window of my own room, I fell asleep. Incidentally, on Hettinger's method, if the subject gets 100 per cent success the significance of the result becomes infinite.
