Hedda Gabler

The two must grope among the ashes. The house you are soon going to move into? Put the thought away from me? In my view, Aline is the most widely misunderstood character in the play. And so you think it time there were an end of it.

And make a princess of you? Then have you nothing to say to me about what happened up there? Do you read them all, too? One is not surprised to learn that among the papers he left behind were sheaves upon sheaves of letters from women. I wonder how she can endure to live in such an out-of-the way hole—eh? But of one thing I have got firm hold.

The Master Builder

Oh, perhaps I wasn't quite such a child either. Was that all you wanted? What is it to be about? Oh no, you may well say that. Packing, too, he detested; and Elias having helped him through this terrible ordeal, the two sat down to lunch together, while awaiting the train.
