The National Work

Regarding the gender gap, it also varies a lot among countries: from 13.

Article 33

Hungary provides a social housing subsidy to families wishing to buy, build or expand a house. This may also be true in some if not all of the NMS, although the tendency to adopt standard EU practices in order to ensure untroubled access to EU funding may push policies in directions that are not necessarily optimal, given the specific needs and circumstances of the countries concerned. Main classifications used are NACE Rev.

Article 33

Employment and social policies are also the main fields of interest of the , which is about delivering new and more effective rights for citizens. Social Indicators Research, 86, 481—496.

Reconciliation of work and family life

The National Accounts integration is however done at macro level, meaning that the results are produced for the whole economy plus a few standard industry breakdowns.

Supporting reconciliation of work, family and private life: Good Practices

Corporate prevention and rehabilitation programmes must become standard practice. This counts against the NMS since a much lower proportion of workers, notably women, in those countries work part time.

Quality of work and employment in Europe

Comparability - over time Since 1983, improved comparability between results of successive surveys has been achieved, mainly due to the greater stability of content and the higher frequency of surveys. In Spain, more attention is now being given to risk prevention following legislation in 1995 and 2003, but the focus remains on the persistently high rates of traditional accidents and concerns about occupational diseases, as is also found in neighbouring Portugal.
