Best of Russia

On festive occasions tables were laid simultaneously in many halls and even on the terraces under the galleries of the palace. No wonder why it occupies so many buildings. And this feature is standard.

Meteors to Peterhof

In the result of the huge collective activity, that filled in the losses of the collection, and studying the archives and iconographical materials the exposition of the museum placed in 20 halls was restored.

Petrodvorets Peterhof

A tiny palace was built in 1714-1723 by the architects I. From 1714 till 1716 the work was held under the direction of I. Where applicable, please ensure that whilst travelling you carry a valid Yellow Fever certificate.

Matchbox Labels from the Past: Petrodvorets / Petergof

You can take a guided tour of the interior of the palace or spend the day strolling through the formal upper gardens and the park-like lower grounds, with more than 150 very unique fountains. Skilfully exploiting the natural slope of the terrain from the springs of Ropsha towards the sea, he constructed a reliable hydrotechnical system here. Braunstein was in charge of the original Grand Palace commissioned in 1714.
