Lawrence of Brindisi

The Capuchin advised attack, and for a second time, he assured a complete victory for the Catholic forces. Because of his knowledge of Hebrew, Pope Clement VIII assigned him to the instructions of the Jews, and due to his knowledge of the language, and powerful reasoning combined with his great kindness, brought many into the Faith. From the critical edition of the saint's writings beautifully bound and illustrated, we can understand why his contemporaries universally praised the faith, the zeal, and the scholarship of the humble Capuchin.

Saint Lawrence of Brindisi

Assigned to teach the Scriptures to his young confreres, Lawrence put his heart and soul into it. Lawrence was only six years old when he preached in the cathedral of his native town with such force and point that his audience was deeply affected and many entered upon a more Christian life. In 1575 he was received into the Capuchin Order and was given the name of Lorenzo.

Prayer in honour of St. Lawrence of Brindisi

In baptism he received the name Giulio Cesare. After the early death of his parents, he was educated by his uncle at the College of St. Lawrence himself tells us of this great battle in his work Commentariolum de rebus Austriae et Bohemiae, wherein, too, he laments the fact that he lost the chance of shedding his blood as a martyr for Christ.

St. Lawrence of Brindisi

Lawrence rightly considered the Protestant heresy a degeneration of Christian truth, a dissolution not only of Catholic unity, but also of the civil and political unity of Europe.

Lawrence of Brindisi

Because he deemed preaching his true vocation, Lawrence kept up his lifelong zeal for it by prayer, penance, and study. He speaks, and his sermon has a profound effect on both the officers and soldiers. Lawrence to ask his recommendation.
