Speaking directly to students, helpful chapter introductions and end-of-chapter summaries focus on key points before and after reading each chapter. Hair, particularly under the arms, acts as a collecting site for perspiration and favors bacterial growth that can result in an offensive odor. Two black girls, about eight and ten years of age, would soon be entering a school with whites.

General anthropology : Jacobs, Melville, 1902

For the first time the self was defined as incomplete without the other, and the gaze no longer served only to satisfy personal vanity but constituted the fundamental requisite for human identity.
