About Sport at the Service of Humanity Conference

Conversations With Food Vernon Press 2020 offers readers an array of essays revealing the power of food and its absence to transform relationships between the human and non-human realms; to define national, colonial, and postcolonial cultures; to help instantiate race, gender, and class relations; and to serve as the basis for policymaking. The anthology ranges from Ancient Greece to the posthuman fairy underworld; from the codifying of French culinary heritage to the strategic marketing of 100-calorie snacks; from the European famine after the Second World War to the lush and exotic cuisines of culinary tourism today.

Richard Crepeau, Ph.D.

The effects that media has had on the sporting industry and consumerism in the past two decades have been tremendous.
