EORN hopes for provincial cash

As such, after Foucault, it constitutes the good of the community as a discursive position which functions in different ways during different periods of development for the provincial press.

Province announces community grants as vaccine incentive

The Community Enhancement Employment Program CEEP is a provincially-funded program that provides short-term employment. The province considered other vaccine incentive programs — including financial incentives for people who choose to be immunized — but favoured targeted, small-scale programs to motivate people to get inoculated. Press

Project sponsors must be established not-for-profit organizations or local governments. The history of the provincial press is charted from its inception in the eighteenth century to the present day.
