The number of branch campuses reporting separately has increased since 1986—87. The rigorous writing instruction of longtime rhetoric professor Edward Tyrell Channing has been widely noted. Meanwhile, the percentage entering medicine grew from about 5 percent at the beginning of the eighteenth century to about 15 percent by 1776.

The History of Honley (1914)

Law and commerce also saw their respective fraction of college graduates increase to that of medicine, about 15 percent, by 1776. The new Wesleyan Chapel was erected at a proposed outlay of about £2,200, and will seat two hundred persons.

Its objectives were to keep the ex-slaves subservient, to civilize and improve them morally, to reduce criminal activity and to guarantee growth in church membership. Modern and business requirements demanded earlier and quicker postal facilities than the old belated methods which satisfied the inhabitants of an earlier day, and a Post Office was established.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Formerly the nearest place of worship was at Honley, so that the erection of a Church was a great event in the history of Brockholes and Smithy Place. One part of his parishioners petitioned for his removal.
