Hoc vero capite varietas refitentiae magnum campum rerum pertractanda- rum aperiet, quae in capite praecedente locum non inueniebant. Intelligitur ex his duplicem cuiusvis po- tentiae esse effectum in corpora, alterum quo cer- tum nifum seu conatum corporibus imprimi- tur, alterum quo ea reipfa mouet. Poteit tamen des- cendus per AB cogitatione concipi, qui prorsus fi- milis fit ascensui, ita vt corpus tam in ascensu quam descensu in pundro P eandem habeat celeritatem» Ad hoc autem fiatui oportet in descensu et poten- tiam abfoiutam accelerantem, et medium propel- lens.
