Get to enjoy all over again. It depicts a woman lying on the field looking at a gray house on the horizon.

Catalog of American Portraits

Jackson Pollock is an example of an Action Painter: his creative process, incorporating thrown and dripped paint from a stick or poured directly from the can, revolutionized painting methods. He also recorded more than 10,000 examples of songs, music, and speech in more than 80 tribes, most of which were in their native languages. His subjects include , , , , , and the.
