1. Introduction

Crystals with relatively larger paramagnetism show a greater electrical conductivity. The present authors hold that the pegmatite lenses are not isolated deposits without any feeders and that there are connecting feeders along the strike and dip.

We have also reported earlier that MWCNTs significantly reduced glutathione levels in dose and time dependent manner.

Ameliorative Effects of Dimethylthiourea and N

The vapours and solutions mllowed the channels of the pegmatite margins. Aluminium chloride, antirabbit- $\beta$ -Amyloid,  $\gamma$ - and- $\beta$ -secretase and amyloid precursor protein APP were purchased from Sigma-Aldrich, Bangalore, India and used in this study. During the recent times, this theory has led to interesting developments in two directions.
