Digital Launch of new Digital Strategy for Scotland

Ministerial Foreword We have a clearer picture than ever before of the crises in our climate and our natural world. This SEA will help us understand the synergy between the various strategies, plans and policies we are drawing from and moving forward how to overcome potential areas of conflict and maximise environmental benefits. The report highlights how the play organisations have responded to the pandemic and emerging evidence of the impact of emergency measures on children and young people.

Play Strategy

The consultation on the draft strategy opened on 27 June and closed on 19 September 2018. One of the things that I hear about most often from disabled children and young people and their families and carers is the lack of access to social, leisure and recreational opportunities and the negative impact that this has on their daily lives. The remaining 41 48% responses were submitted by individuals.

Secondly, and contrary to the previous two Strategies, the new Strategy does not contain any new policy proposals developed specifically for its publication. The following month, Glasgow will host COP 26, a major UN climate conference where countries will pledge their national commitments to deliver the Paris Climate Agreement.

Culture strategy for Scotland consultation: analysis of responses

First Annual Delivery Plan — 2020 to 2022 The has been published. In recognition of this the Climate Change Scotland Act 2009 placed a statutory duty on Scottish Ministers to produce and publish a Land Use Strategy.

Consultation: Scotland's Third Land Use Strategy

Instead it brings together key strands of various Scottish Government policies that touch on land use, and showcases how these various areas fit together. Growing this sector gives us an opportunity to create new jobs in industries with long term growth potential and make a positive impact on climate change.

Play Strategy

The themes raised by individuals and organisations were often very similar and there were no clear patterns among themes raised by different types of organisations.

Digital Digital Strategy Consultation

Responses will be published where we have been given permission to do so. We also rely on the huge contribution of people and organisations across Scotland who share our goals, and who have contributed to the development of this vision for Scotland's environment. Scotland will continue to work collaboratively with other nations and through international forums.

Digital Launch of new Digital Strategy for Scotland

It is a Strategy for all users: those travelling to, from and within Scotland.
