Ramu Dada (1961)

Dada was an active movement during years of political turmoil from 1916 when European countries were actively engaged in World War I, the conclusion of which, in 1918, set the stage for a new political order. Where art was concerned with traditional , Dada ignored aesthetics. Still others speculate that the word might have been chosen to evoke a similar meaning or no meaning at all in any language, reflecting the movement's.
