List of Statutory Instruments of the United Kingdom, 1990

Although the powers of the Standing Veterinary Committee were delegated by the Council, it is the Commission that exerts control over it. Mr Bradley, who from 1969 to 1991 was head of the UK's Central Veterinary Laboratory and was subsequently an adviser to the British Ministry of Agriculture, has acted as rapporteur on BSE at the full meetings of the Scientific Veterinary Committee; it emerges, furthermore, from some of the minutes of the committee meetings that a number of members have suggested that Mr Bradley may have withheld information see minutes of the meeting of the public health section of the Scientific Veterinary Committee, 11 May 1995 - Annex 23. We expect additional capital and integration expenses in 2018 associated with the integration of Codman Neurosurgery.

It is convinced that such measures will be effective only if adequate resources are earmarked for them in terms of appropriations and qualified staff. However, in the documents relating to staff requirements in DG VI, and, in particular, in a report on the internal situation of the veterinary services which has been made available to the present committee, while reference is repeatedly made to the urgent need for more human resources for tasks arising from the internal market or relating to certain priority illnesses such as foot-and-mouth disease, we have not found any reference to the need for staff to improve the monitoring of BSE. At times it has seemed that for each opinion on how and why, there are at least a dozen more conflicting theories.

Parliament cannot clear the Commission as an institution from responsibility for the errors committed by Commissioners no longer in office. Forest Service officials would be authorized to propose timber sale modifications and to enter into discussions with purchasers on such modifications. In the present case, the illegalities alleged by the applicants consist essentially in the adoption of insufficient, incorrect, inadequate or tardy rules and measures to deal with BSE.

The Bovine Products (Despatch to other Member States) Regulations 1996

Initially, the Commission justified this omission on the grounds that it lacked the necessary staff. The Company also received 2.
