A Journalist's Guide to the Federal Courts

If you have any questions, call 0800 COURTS 0800 268 787. To order a copy of the audio recordings of certain Court proceedings which, by law, are part of the Courts' public record, you must fill out and file a form with the appropriate Court: Print the completed form, sign it, and fax or deliver it to the courthouse in which the case was heard. But it examines aspects of the matter.

Federal Court: Media Basics

Moreover, many of these FOIA cases were the very first FOIA cases filed by members of the news media.

Subscribers receive an e-mail message advising that an application has been made and when and where it will be heard.

Law scholar to discuss Supreme Court and the media in virtual "On the Issues," Feb. 3 // News Center // Marquette University

The Decision: The United States Supreme Court unanimously ruled in favor of the newspaper. He spent another hour just signing autographs, talking to them, and answering questions. By contrast, although the total number of FOIA lawsuits filed by media organizations grew overall from 2013 to 2019 see Figure 4 , this was a sign that media organizations were filing more lawsuits per organization, not necessarily that new media organizations were getting involved in FOIA litigation work.

Supreme Court News

Professor Peter Arenella has said that televising trials has led to a disappearance in community deference to jurors because viewers who believe what they see in television is either the truth, or the same thing the jury sees, now respect a jury verdict only if it agrees with their own.
