Do landowners hold the solution to a grave crisis?

Have these proposal panels been designed and deliberated by the Directors of the trust in recent few months since the Trust was setup? We are also looking at proposals where the trust would take ownership of everything except the funicular and operate it for HIE, ultimately if any disaster befell the area then the community trusts liability is limited to one pound per member and i would imagine the assets would be taken back under government control as they were last time, the difference in this case is that the debts have already been written off, the situation would not be very different to today.

New powers to mountain bikers to help save capercaillie

Such a model is also likely to accelerate the degradation of the Mourne landscape. Introduction to this resource 2.

New powers to mountain bikers to help save capercaillie

Long-running problems on the North Chesthill Estate have seen a steady stream of complaints from hill walkers who feel they have been obstructed from their legal right of responsible access. Sustainable development has been added to the traditional twin aims of conservation and recreation.

Wild lynx could be reintroduced into Scottish Highlands

And yet, Cairn Gorm means something different. A survey of access problems on a Glen Lyon estate is being carried out by the Mountaineering Council of Scotland.
