Canada's Master Humorist Will Brighten Your Day

Come out, said the manager coldly, and showed me the other way. Behind him were his tremendous outpourings of words; his wonderful humor, the economic treatises and the biographies of Charles Dickens, Mark Twain and Abraham Lincoln. His first appointment was at Uxbridge High School, Ontario, but he was soon offered a post at Upper Canada College, where he remained from 1889 through 1899.

Are you not going to deposit any more? For example, like many of his contemporaries, Leacock believed women should be denied the vote, yet he championed female students at McGill and paid for his nieces to attend university. They knew he kept his money in his sock, so when I pulled my pant leg up to pay for my booze and pulled the money from my sock, there was this huge laugh that went through the house.
