Philip Doddridge (1702

Come, cast your burdens on the Lord And trust his constant care.

Philip Doddridge

Among his friends was the famous hymnwriter Isaac Watts 1674-1748. Wesley consulted him on a course of reading for young preachers, and received a very detailed reply 18 June 1746.

Philip Doddridge

In 1736 he received the degree of D.

Philip Doddridge

Doddridge's correspondence is remarkable at this period for its lively play of sportive vivacity, its absence of reserve, and its pervading elements of healthy good sense. When the Princess was about to confess publicly her vows to God, the Queen selected this hymn to be sung.
