Nancy Davis Lewis

As a small island developing state, with significant vulnerabilities to external economic shocks, the impacts of natural disasters and effects of climate change, Saint Lucia recognizes fully that sustainable development with a focus on people, planet, prosperity, partnerships and peace has to be at the core of our national plans and programmes, in order to meet the needs of present and future generations. The Bahamas had been grappling with a proliferation of gang activity, illicit drugs, small arms and light weapons and ammunition trafficking. To better govern those spaces, his Government had created the blue economy department.

UNDP

His country, in that regard, viewed its own peace and security as being directly affected by the prosperity and stability of the small island developing States in its region, the Pacific. The Seychelles Minister for Finance said that weak governance of oceans, which surrounded small island developing States and made up 75 per cent of the planet, undermined global security.

OHCHR

In the age of MeToo, we bring you the voices of Latin American women who are raising their voices and running for office, against all odds.

Gender

Power imbalances and false stereotypes of what women can and cannot do have gone on for far too long. Lewis stepped down as Director of the Research Program at the East-West Center August 1, 2017. Her Government provided technical advice on anti-narcotics to neighbouring countries in those areas, and planned to convene a seminar for 16 Caribbean countries to help them build national operational capacity to combat transnational organized crime.

About SIDS

To respond to security threats of climate change, those island States needed investment in adaption measures and action-oriented responses. She has received a number of grants, fellowships and awards, is the author of numerous professional publications, and has served as a consultant for national and international organizations.

Build back better: women at the centre of decision

An international conference on Sex-disaggregated Water Monitoring, Assessment and Reporting will close Phase III of the project, and the final results will be widely distributed.

Facts and figures: Women's leadership and political participation

Nancy has also served on the gender advisory board of the International Federation of Institutes for Advanced Study and on the founding board of the International Association for Ecology and Health. Italy was also now working to develop a cooperation programme to help to meet the specific challenges of its Caribbean partners.
