However, there are also important differences, including the enforcement of directors' legal duties, board structure, the role of institutional investors, and the nature of corporate governance reforms, which lead us to hypothesize that UK boards will play a much weaker monitoring role. Roofers may work overtime in order to finish a particular job, especially during busy summer months.

Do carrier expectations indicate industry structure in container shipping? An econometric analysis

China and India are the key countries contributing majorly to the overall growth of the region as a huge number of market players involved in the manufacturing of insulation boards are located in these two countries. Examination of other countries is therefore useful in developing a broader view of what determines board structure.
