India and Russia: The Scinde Railway Company: Its Origin and Policy: Wells, Hardy: Books

The ekkas upon the road at present carry passengers from the heart of the city of Lahore to the heart of the city of Umrtsir for four annas, or sixpence sterling, and what railway can beat that in cheapness with profit to itself? The 1857 Act, s 7. While these books may have occasional imperfections, we consider that only hand checking of every page ensures readable content without poor picture quality, blurred or missing text etc. The principal purpose behind the 1886 Act was as its short title implies to lay the ground for the acquisition by the Secretary of State of the amalgamated railway company's undertaking on behalf of the government of India.

Scinde Railway

This was the first railway line for public use between Karachi and Kotri, a distance of 108 miles 174 km. Government of the United Kingdom

The 1855 Act, s 4. It is a different matter that they dont care but that doesnt take away from the intrinsic value of the watch! In December 1855 the railway company had agreed with the East India Company that the former would construct and open a line from Kurrachee to Hyderabad on the river Indus today in Pakistan , on land to be provided by the latter, and that the railway company would lodge with the East India Company the construction moneys, which would be drawn upon as the need arose. The 1857 Act, s 10.

Scinde, Punjab & Delhi Railway

In 1870, the Scinde Railway Company was amalgamated with the Scinde and Railway Company and renamed the Sind, Punjab and Delhi Railway. Notices of call made on shares would be sufficient if made in England or in India, dependant upon their place of registration: ibid. Regards Ray Hi, I am surprised that there are not more John Walker Railway Pocket Watches on the forum? Some of the debentureholdings were convertible into shareholdings.

Slaughter, the secretary of the Stock Ex-change, in his publication on Railway In-vestments. There are far more fitting expedients of communication for the present condition of India than those which we have slavishly copied from England, without having con-descended to take the vast difference in the circumstances of the two countries into account.

The company was granted a 5% return on investment up to a maximum of £1 million in order to build the 120-mile line.

Scinde Railway and similar companies

The truth cannot long be concealed by such shifts, and it is far better that the Government should look the matter in the face, and reconcile themselves to the conclu- sion that the Scinde Railway project was a mistake—that it was carried out with a needless expensoe and that its position and prospects are now maintained in a need-less obscurity. Thats a great one Omexa! Issued to train guards on the Victorian Railways.
