The 'O' Antiphons

The reality that the messiah would be a poor, wandering rabbi who would be executed on a Roman cross was not, however, expected. See Haggai 2:7: Et movebo omnes gentes, et veniet desideratus cunctis gentibus. Only God could accomplish this, only he could unite the nation of Israel with the nations of the world, and only he could save us whom he has formed out of the dust of the earth.

O Rex Gentium

The maker of the sun was made under the sun. Emmanuel Shall come to thee, O Israel! Genesis 18:18 God sang the refrain of the Promise again when He demonstrated the nature and cost of the sacrifice by which He would atone for the sin of the world.

O Rex Gentium: King of all nations, whether they like it or not

Christ clearly fulfills this by opening the covenant to the Gentiles, just as He promises throughout His earthly ministry see, for example, John 10:16. Not only kings, but the gentiles at the cross confessed Jesus as God Mark 15:38.

Isaiah 9:7 His authority shall grow continually, and there shall be endless peace for the throne of David and his kingdom. That all humans are made in the image and likeness of God was a radical and liberating proposition for biblical Israel and remains so for the religions it generated. English Translation: O King of the Gentiles, and their Desire, The Corner-stone, Who madest both one: Come and save man, Whom You have formed out of the dust of the earth.
