A Summary of Paul's Life

It is evident that he knew the biblical languages well.

Who was Paul? His early life, and why it matters

In the ancient world, there were roughly 6 million Jewish people, 5 million people living outside of the area we now know as Israel. While in Lystra Paul healed a cripple, which almost caused the city to worship him; when Jews arrived, the citizens changed their mind and stoned him, leaving him for dead. In that speech, Paul emphasizes that the salvation of God has been sent to the Gentiles, the non-Jews.

He is said to have been one of the seventy disciples, mentioned in the Gospel of Luke, commissioned to preach the gospel.

Paul the Apostle

Christians god is NOT God the Father or the Son - their god is Paul - the AntiChrist Lawless Torah-less teaching Pharisee. Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he might not have to spend time in Asia, for he was hastening to be at Jerusalem, if possible, on the day of Pentecost. Although we do have markets that might have been somewhat similar to what Paul experienced, just guessing on this though.
