Bad Behavior? Positive Parenting Rules for Kids With ADHD

Consequences should be natural and logical. For a social skills group near you, ask for a referral from your school psychologist or a local mental health clinic. But I struggle with psychiatry as scientific, because of the issues above.

Do French Kids Have ADHD?

Home made certificates, gold stars, stickers, charts, and check lists with lots of checks can be used when children work hard on tasks at home, such as remembering to take out the garbage, shopping without forgetting, setting the table correctly, making their beds, and putting the toilet paper into the holder when the last piece has gone.

7 Simple Parenting Strategies That Work

Reward your child for small achievements—these will lead to bigger successes down the road. Parents who have seen this describe the child as acting as if he were drunk or high after meals or snacks.
