. Even in some of the hottest places, these termite mounds, remain exceptionally cool inside. Water is conveyed to the lizard's mouth by capillary action through a circulatory system on the surface of its skin.

Biomimetics: Biologically Inspired Technologies

These proteins contain a mix of residues which has been adapted specifically for purposes. Taking a systems perspective rather than focusing narrowly on materials or chemistry aspects, Biomimetics: Biologically Inspired Technologies examines the field from every angle. His idea, however, was hatched years earlier when, during a hunting trip in the Alps, his dog became covered in burs.
