Dune (novel)

Frank Herbert toyed with the story about a desert world full of hazards and riches. Herbert said Paul's messiah figure was inspired by the legend, and that the scarcity of water on Arrakis was a metaphor for , as well as air and water itself, and for the shortages of resources caused by overpopulation. The Fremen people of Arrakis were influenced by the tribes of Arabia, and the prophecy originates from

Dune (novel)

As a foreigner who adopts the ways of a desert-dwelling people and then leads them in a military capacity, Paul Atreides bears many similarities to the historical.
