How to build a pond

A small quantity of the clay is mixed with water and made into a roll about 1 inch in diameter and 5 to 10 inches long; and if, on being suspended by one end while wet, it does not break, the cohesive strength is ample. Not sure what they did with them.

Field & Pond

Aquatic irises comprise such a large and diverse group — there are literally hundreds, if not thousands of cultivated and natural hybrids. I saw other photos of your ponds that look really swampy.

Nonetheless, it certainly makes any water pond classy and beautiful. If a digger is employed on the farm elsewhere for winter ditching, it is worth asking the operator to remove a couple of accessible bucketfuls of reedmace stands as this makes way for other less competitive emergent plants that provide good egg-laying opportunities for other creatures such as great crested newt. Some of the pond spitter shapes include turtles, frogs and birds.

Remove excess algae and duckweed. Algal blooms often come and go without management, and certainly in a new or recently restored pond, other plants will establish and often out-compete the algae. Rain gardens also function to help filter out pollutants before water enters the ground or the stormwater system.
