Situating Gaston Paris specifically in the climate at the end of the Franco-Prussian War is Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht, Gaston Paris en 1871, in Zink, Le Moyen Âge de Gaston Paris, 69–80. He capped studies in Vienna which included a study trip to Paris by completing his Habilitation there.

The text investigates Gaston Paris's theories about three medieval literary genres epic, fabliaux, and Arthurian tales to understand how Paris's view of medieval literature and history cross-related with nationalism at a time when France was particularly vulnerable, and at which French academics were especially eager to make a long-lasting contribution. Gretchen Krahling McKay, An Eastern Medieval Revival: Byzantine Art and Nineteenth-Century French Painting, in Medievalism in Technology Old and New, ed. Instead, they became the subjects of outspoken debate, the objects of rehabilitation, and commodities of desire in global industries.
