Media Literacy and Society
2005W

Unit Goal: To evaluate how the media can influence the perception of events.

Rationale: Students will examine the tools of the media by analyzing various genres and styles of "The News." Students will become critical viewers and readers of "The News."

I.R.P.s:
It is the teacher that students will:
- demonstrate a willingness to explore a variety of genres and media
- think critically about the messages surrounding them
- comprehend the role of mass media in society and their personal lives

SWBAT:
Identify how style and genre influences the way in which the news is perceived by the viewing public.
Demonstrate reporters function in their roles as news broadcasters.
Analyze and interpret the "script" of a famous interview.
Compare, analyze and interpret different types of newspaper styles influence.
Interpret and analyze how images can portray powerful messages to their audience.
Analyze the language of the newspaper genre.
Create their own newspaper.

Lesson #2 and Mode: Looking at Style In the Comedy/News Genre
Students will view a clip from the Daily Show and brainstorm ideas about how they saw the news being presented to the audience ie. use of humour, persuasion (The Daily Show Site" then click on "Spring Convo")

Modularity rating: 5 The sections in this text are easily broken into segments that can be taught or read at any point throughout the writing process. It would be easy to select specific chapters as course readings. Included are youth facts, funding information, and tools to help you assess community assets, generate maps of local and federal resources, search for evidence-based youth programs, and keep up-to-date on the latest, youth-related news.

Edutopia

And while it lacks the ability to insert comments, it shows any changes to the doc in a message sidebar. Knowledge transforming: method of transforming ideas, modifying concepts and creating a hierarchy of information, keeping in mind clarity, plausibility and effectiveness of the text.

Nouns

Computers and other forms of technology support literacy and encourage speaking, reading, writing, and listening, through formal and informal language opportunities. I wish this last part emphasized thesis again, too, but in all, it is a very structured, reader-friendly guide.

Collaborative writing with computers and children's talk: A cross

We were also required to reflect on some the literature we read in class by adding photos, comments, poetry etc. Students line up and face each other. Creatively fulfilled teachers may also be happier teachers.
