

Relation betweene the lord of a mannor and the copyy-holder his tenant. - Whereby it doth appear for what causes a copyy-holder may forfeite his copyy-hold estate, and for what not: and likewise what lord can grant a copyy, and to whom. Published for the good of the lords of mannors and their tenants.

Manorial Society -

Description: -

-relation betweene the lord of a mannor and the copyy-holder his tenant. - Whereby it doth appear for what causes a copyy-holder may forfeite his copyy-hold estate, and for what not: and likewise what lord can grant a copyy, and to whom. Published for the good of the lords of mannors and their tenants.

The Manorial Societys Publications -- no. 10relation betweene the lord of a mannor and the copyy-holder his tenant. - Whereby it doth appear for what causes a copyy-holder may forfeite his copyy-hold estate, and for what not: and likewise what lord can grant a copyy, and to whom. Published for the good of the lords of mannors and their tenants.

Notes: Reprint of work published in London by William Cooke, 1635.

This edition was published in 1917

Filesize: 21.65 MB

Tags: #

...

.

...

Related Books

- Harnack and Troeltsch - two historical theologians.
- Whats the secret? - to providing a world-class customer experience
- Gender on campus - issues for college women
- Huo fo.
- Iconografia del Rey San Fernando en la pintura de Sevilla