We also share their critical view that crime, justice, and crime control cannot be separated from the totality of the ordered, structural, and cultural contexts of their productivity. Men who live in certain urban ghettos are likely to spend time in prison. Those differences in sentencing, however, seem to reflect differences between the crimes committed.

Crime and gender: A partial explanation for why men commit more crime

Berkeley: University of California Press. Plainly, the gender differences on both increasing prison terms for those who commit violent crimes and on building more prisons are both insignificant and minimal.

Sisters in Crime: The Rise of the New Female Criminal.

Gender, crime, and punishment : Daly, Kathleen, 1948

We need to spend more money on programs to help poor people; blacks and minorities find jobs so they can earn a decent living without turning to crime. There may in fact be such a striking difference in parenting rates among male and female felons, or the data may instead reflect a difference in questions asked or answers given. To examine the relationship between gender and anti-crime attitudes more rigorously, we constructed regression equations for all the items for which there were significant differences by gender.
