Broader Picture When assessing the impact of the Cohesion Fund on the economies of the countries concerned, it must not be looked at in isolation from other factors which play a role in the overall economic development of these countries.

Front Matter : International Monetary Fund Annual Report 1995:

The application of this principle can also generate revenue, though this is clearly not comparable to normal revenue. It also takes into account the impact on the legislative procedure of the mandate given to Mr.

Pursuant to the partnership principle, calls for the local and regional authorities affected by a project as well as the legally competent environmental authorities to be involved in the preparation and monitoring thereof, even if they have no responsibility for implementing it, and considers that the most representative environmental associations and the social partners of the beneficiary Member State should be involved; 14. Considers as positive the leverage which the Commission proposes for the Cohesion Fund by mobilising public and private resources which, undoubtedly, would also lead to the promotion of projects connected with research, new technologies and the diversification of energy supply, for measures in the transport and environment sectors; 6.

Interim Report on the proposal for a Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No. 1164/94 establishing a Cohesion Fund (COM(98)0130

Enlargement to include countries whose average GDP is far below the Community average - 32% of the Community average, as against 74% for the Union's four least prosperous Member States - will change radically the statistical map of disparities across the Union, whilst failing to bring about any real improvement in those regions already lagging behind at present.

Interim Report on the proposal for a Council Regulation amending Regulation (EC) No. 1164/94 establishing a Cohesion Fund (COM(98)0130

These Member States argue that meeting the costs of enlargement should not mean that the least favoured regions lose out. The Committee on Budgets requests the Committee on Regional Policy to adopt the following recommendations, presented in the form of amendments to the draft report, according to the provisions of the Hughes procedure: before first indent a new indent: - Having regard to its resolutions of 4. The differences with regard to unemployment are wider still.
