Reducing Adolescent Pregnancy Through A School

Can They Keep Teens from Having REAL Babies? Grants have been awarded to local agencies to implement at least one of the following evidence-based curricula within school, community-based, or out-of-home care settings: Making Proud Choices! All sites must establish community partnerships to support successful program implementation. Racial and ethnic disparities remain, with higher rates of teen pregnancy for Hispanic and non-Hispanic black adolescents than non-Hispanic white adolescents.

TPPI: PREPare for Success

Through two large-scale, multi-site evaluations, the OAH tried to replicate the TOP model in sites throughout the nation. In addition, members of both groups should be similarly disposed toward the program. Recognition is important for all students.

The Failure of the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Program: Advocates of Evidence

The outcomes are based on self-reported data.

Egg Babies, Sugar Babies, Flour Babies... Can They Keep Teen...

While RR had no effect on the likelihood of engaging in oral and anal sex, the program was associated with a 36 percent decrease in the likelihood of having vaginal sex. Social support: Comprehensive approaches must move beyond health and education to address the social contexts and environments in which an adolescent resides.
