11. Please clarify by return: (i) whether DAERA considered other alternative satisfactory solutions to the killing of birds for each respective purpose prior to issuing each of TGP/1/2020, TGP/2/2020 and TGP/3/2020. In the event that DAERA did consider alternative satisfactory solutions, please provide copies of the assessments and decision documents relating to those considerations. In the event that DAERA did not, please explain why not; and (ii) how DAERA intends to ensure that the licences apply on a selective basis and in respect of a small number of birds.

Evidence base

12. Section 18(2) permits DAERA to issue general licences only "on a selective basis and in respect of a small number of birds". Our client is concerned that DAERA appears to have contravened this requirement by issuing general licences for the killing of certain species in circumstances where there is little or no evidence that those species cause the problem that the respective licence purports to address. Rather than issuing licences on a selective basis, it appears from the evidence available that DAERA has authorised the unnecessary causal killing of a large number of wild birds absent a proper evidence base.

The principle is now established that a lieutenant-governor may be dismissed only when he cannot find provincial ministers willing and able to support him. In my opinion, we need legislation that identifies and provides for all factors that drive and affect the entire industry.

Report of the Public Archives for the year 1939

Literature and Art These are fields in which the Public Archives has as yet acquired relatively few important collections, but, in association with the National Library, the department hopes to expand its holdings rapidly in the near future. At the request of Mr.
