Understanding youth violence: The mediating effects of gender, poverty and vulnerability

In this paper, a summary is provided of the findings from four interdependent studies designed to explore Sudanese Australian experiences with the Queensland criminal justice system and to challenge some misconceptions. As Tizard 1991 has especially pointed out, we need to avoid the error of thinking that there are no 'second chances', that 'if at first you don't succeed, you don't succeed'. Study 1: Media representations of Sudanese Australians At the outset of the research, some key parameters were set.
